David Green, CEO and Founder Ecoisland Partnership, Eco Island

With a passion for the planet and sustainability from an early age David spent much of his life introducing young people to the Great Outdoors through the medium of watersports. As the CEO of a Royal Charity employing more than 250 people and operating in excess of 300 craft worldwide he quickly acquired a strong set of logistics, finance, marketing and communication skills. Having won a number of National Sustainability Awards he chose to transfer his skills to the renewable energy sector and was the originator of the Ecoisland Vision. There are many Eco initiatives around the UK doing a great job of promoting the vision of sustainability but perhaps none as ambitious as this one. With the backing of the Community, the local press and with the political and economic landscape clearly on his side David is fast becoming one of Britain's inspirational Green Leaders. Having recently been selected as one of 11 Team Green Britain Heroes by EDF Energy, winning the Climate Change Award for Community Initiatives and being shortlisted as one the top 10 Green Executives in the UK David is clearly acting as a catalyst for environmental change.
