Colonel Andrew Cuthbert, Commander British Military Advisory Training Team (Czech Republic), BMATT (CZ) (Vyskov)

Colonel Andrew Cuthbert is the Commander of the British Military Advisory Training Team based in the Czech Republic. BMATT(CZ) represents a key pillar in the delivery of the UK's overseas capacity building and defence engagement strategy. BMATT(CZ) trains military personnel from more than 30+ countries, stretching from Morocco to Kazakhstan. With more than 30 years service Andrew Cuthbert has extensive operational experience. He commanded The Queen’s Royal Hussars, an armoured regiment equipped with Challenger 2 tanks. He also holds masters degrees from Cambridge University (MPhil in International Relations) and from King’s College, London (MA Strategic Studies).